

Common Framework for Networked Personal Health Information Statement of Endorsement

Consumers need to be full participants in modern health information tools and services to help them prevent illness, communicate better with clinicians, understand costs and treatment options, make better health decisions, and take better care of loved ones.

The Markle Connecting for Health Common Framework for Networked Personal Health Information defines a set of practices that, when taken together, can enhance consumer participation and protect personal information.

AARP	DrFirst	National Committee for Quality Assurance
Aetna	FollowMe
Allscripts	Geisinger Health System	National Partnership for Women and Families
American Academy of Family Physicians	GenesysMD	National Quality Forum
American College of Cardiology	Google	NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital
American College of Emergency Physicians	Health 2.0 Accelerator
American College of Physicians	Health Care For All	Northwest Health Foundation
America's Health Insurance Plans	Health Level Seven
Association of Cancer Online Resources (ACOR.org)	IEEE-USA	Pacific Business Group on Health
BlueCross BlueShield Association	Intel Corp.	Palo Alto Medical Foundation
CareGroup Healthcare System	InterComponentWare Inc.	Partners Healthcare System
Carestream Health Inc.	Intuit Inc.	PatientsLikeMe
Center for Democracy and Technology	Keas Inc.	Prematics
Center on Medical Record Rights and Privacy	McKesson/RelayHealth	Surescripts
Cisco Systems Inc.	MedCommons
Computer Sciences Corp.	Medical Group Management Association	U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs
Consumers Union	MedicAlert Foundation International	Vanderbilt Center for Better Health
Dossia	Metavante	Verizon
	Microsoft Corp.	Visiting Nurse Service of New York
	National Breast Cancer Coalition	Wal-Mart
	National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship	WebMD